Presidents Report

PITTSWORTH... 47 Vans, Motorhomes & 5th Wheelers came to the Downs for our first taste of Winter. Friday was wet and windy with 136mm over the day. Saturday and Sunday were fine but still cold.

I must thank Merv and Carolyn Kahler and his band of Rotarians for all there help over the weekend, that was the best bacon and eggs $5 ever bought. Merv also organized the tagalong to the egg farm and lollie shop plus the country singer Saturday night. You can't beat that country hospitality.

Our efforts for the weekend raised $800 for the Careflight Helicopter an essential service for the folk on the Darling Downs. There will be plenty happening at the next rally at PINE RIVERS SHOWGROUNDS at Lawnton, with easy access to the railway for the Caravan Show goes. Remember Monday is a public holiday. Why not invite family and friends along to share a cuppa with. Noleen and I wish to thank all those members for there kind thoughts on the passing of her Mother.

President Gary....

Weekend Activity report

Thursday was a mixed day weatherwise and most arrivals managed to get set up without too much wet drama. There were a few opportunities worthy of editorial mention ! See below.

Apparently the story goes like this: Dennis Edney attended the opening of the New Springers Solar Store at Capalaba. Whilst there he had his 7 year old battery checked out ,all okey dokey.(which is a pretty good age for a battery).....Later in the Night he won the lucky door prize of .....A $400 dollar Battery and Holder Box !!.....Either you got it or you aint !! Jammy devil !

FRIDAY Dawned wet and stormy, quite heavy rain overnight, but one particularly hefty storm in the early afternoon caught us all by surprise!

It was a particularly long day for the Rally Marshalls, as due to quite a number of Members having attended Margaret Colstons and others Funerals in Brisbane , arrived on site after dark following a rather harrowing drive up to Pittsworth. Not a lot of activity happened during the day apart from trying to stay dry or standing around chatting. The usual Friday afternoon activities were cancelled for various reasons, mostly weather related.

A little light relief was welcomed in the afternoon as Ray Caddies, Steve Langley and Bryan Davies started the unenviable task of separating Members from their money for the entertainment and meal on Saturday night.

The Dedicated "Cardies"

Friday night the Members were divided between a Meal at the Local Bowls Club, Watching the Friday Night Football match, or just staying home

Not forgetting the Intrepid Band of dedicated Cardies who braved the cold and wet to get their fix of UNO !!.....All 4 of us !!

Saturday After the meeting on Saturday, the tag a long set off right on 10 o'clock. Vehicles took part, most of them full to capacity. First stop was the Darling Downs Egg producers. Our Guide for the tour was Roger Adams.

First he gave us a quick rundown on the operation. It really is an eyeopener to go on these sort of trips. Even as adults I think we take so much for granted. Oh we say ,an egg's an egg when its sitting on your breakfast plate.....But how we get that egg is absolutely fascinating to the layman(no pun intended!).

We then went on a fair hike to the plant were the feed is mixed ready for the chooks to eat. It is a fully automated, daytime operation. The equipment is big, noisy and extremely dusty. Work in progress will make the plant a 24/7 setup.

Next another walk up to the section where a new project was in the pipeline. The latest venture is a groundbreaking plan to build a plant that will turn the Chook manure into a Methane Gas product. The Gas will then be drawn off into the large holding reservoir under the rubberised sheeting in the pond. From there it will be piped to the machinery shed to power the large Methane gas generator plant.

This Project will eventually make the whole operation pretty much self sufficient powerwise, but they will still be connected to the grid for emergency electricity supplies.

Looks like a bunch of crims coming into their compound from a road gang !!!

Holding Tank for Methane Gas. Part of proposed fertiliser processing plant to produce plants own electricity

Methane electric Generator, final stage of the self provision aiming at using chook manure to provide power.

Next stop was the Production Line. Suffice to say, mine host Roger Adams, Diplomatically side stepped the inevitable discussion on the merits of different methods of egg production, but did say a couple of words on the debate between caged and free range production and all made complete sense when coming straight from the Farmers mouth.

The Sheds here are temperature controlled at around 24C. Every chicken is individually examined Daily, (see pic of bike used so all levels can be reached for examination) so any sick birds are removed before any problems can develop from dead birds been left in the pens.

.And the thing a lot of people noticed was the Quiet!,,,Not the noisy cackling roar they expected, just a gentle murmur of contented chooks. In fact the noisiest thing was the fully automated egg collection conveyer system.

Some of the figures coming at us where incredible: In the USA (where they buy the day old chicks from because the particular breed lays the best brown eggs), The Yanks pay 50 something cents each. Our farmer pays $3.00 !! (Believe it or not ,Australia is only a tiny market in the egg world, hence there are no large scale breeding operations for chicks)...By the time the hen starts laying at 16 weeks, it has already cost the Farmer $10.00 !.....A few years ago they made 50c per dozen profit, now it's between 1 & 2 cents per dozen!! And the most staggering figure of all is the 220,000 eggs produced DAILY

Finally, to the sorting and packing shed. Wash and brush up before facing the sorting. The technology and mechanics involved in the equipment which drops the eggs into the correct boxing line according to their weight, at blinding speed, is incredible. Very informative tour !

We finished the tag-a-long with a visit to the local Lolly Shop in town. .

Saturday night

Our 65th Birthday Celebration. The local Rotarians put on a nice Steak to compliment our evening meal. The Birthday cake was cut afterwards by 4 of our life member couples who were in attendance. They were, from the left, Tom & Jackie Smith, Bob & Barbara Rutherford, Bert & Yvonne Beker and Ken & Dell Mc Nab.

A bit of trivia concerning the life members present this weekend. 105 Years membership between them and they have attended 982 Rallies . Quite some achievement, hey?

The evening was finished off with a concert by Bush Balladeer John Luscombe, Including a chat from local Counsellor, Roz Scotney. Another successful Rally under our belts !!

A couple of bits from talented Members

Caravan Holiday (touch of home grown verse)

Driving along with my caravan, there's lots of thing to see.
I look in my rear view mirror, and cars are following me.

Guess they're happy to see me, honking and waving with glee.
Arms out the window, so friendly I can see.

All the cars, they fly by me, I wind down the window to see.
They yell "stupid dickhead"....Idiots,.. they can't be talking to me!

I also hear "Farque" quite a lot, but don't know where it's at.
It must be quite a beautiful spot, but can't find it on any map !!!

Suzie Bee

Member Lance Haslewood getting ready to pilot this plane on fly pasts at the local ANZAC events.

Bit of Local Trivia..

Apparently Pittsworth is not only famous for it's egg production. I was out in the car the other day when someone on the radio mentioned Pittsworth, so my ears pricked up. All I managed to hear was that Pittsworth used to be a very large Dairying centre way back when.

So I decided to do a bit of digging and came up with a couple of surprising facts.

The Railway arrived in 1887 and foresaw a move from Sheep rearing to Dairy farming. By 1914 Pittsworth had a large number of dairy factories which were producing about 80% of the cheese on the Darling Downs. In 1915,the town made a single block of Cheddar that weighed 1.5 tons!! which was shipped to the World Dairy Show in London. At the time, it was the Worlds largest block of cheese!!.....So there ya go, you learn summat every day.
