January / February 2019

President's Report ... A very enjoyable rally for our caravan club held at the Woodford Showground for January. The very warm days made conditions a little unpleasant, however, cool temperatures during the nights helped for good night's sleep. The air conditioners were in full swing during the days to make conditions more pleasant and a little easier to cope with the extreme heat.

We had 72 caravans attend the rally. This is amazing considering it was January which is normally a quiet rally period. We had first-time visitors Mary Ditton, also Ross and Jan Munro friends of Carol and Kevin Day. Second-time visitors were Ted and Fay Walker. Guests were Ric and Fran Bennetts from Western Australia who are friends of Cheryl and Rick Henry. One-day visitor was Mary Jacobson.

Wednesday night, eight members visited the Woodford Village Hotel for dinner. On Thursday night, 24 members visited the hotel for dinner and similar numbers for Friday night. All reports the meals were good as well as the service and all members enjoyed the nights.

Thursday and Friday, 17 men and nine ladies enjoyed a game of golf at the local golf course. Very good scores were received and also stiff completion among all members.

Friday afternoon, 12 members played lawn bowls at the Woodford Bowls Club. Thank you to Shane Jones and Lance Haslewood for doing the ground-work in establishing contact and liaising with club management, and to Ray McDonald for organising the afternoon game. The afternoon craft group saw many ladies making bags and tissues box covers. Everyone had a good time.

Tai Chi was run by Lyn Hill on Friday afternoon and the numbers were excellent considering the warm day. Friday night saw the usual game of cards in the hall followed by tea and coffee.

A 50-rally certificate was presented to Peter and Nerida Versace and 100-rally certificate to Ray and Jan Steel at the Saturday morning meeting. (Sunday for the badge presentation. Sorry guys.)

After the meeting on Saturday morning, about 25 members enjoyed art painting with Michael Burdette with assistance of Sue Baker. Thank you both for your skills and patience. I am sure this session will continue at further rallies, and no doubt members' art skills will advance as the lessons progress.

80 members left Saturday afternoon at 1:30pm for a tag-a-long tour to Woongooroo Winery Estate at Mount Archer. This was a most enjoyable visit and now many members have more skills and understanding of the wine processes. We all enjoyed a splendid afternoon tea and wine tasting as well as playing games and listening to bush poetry. Thank you, Olive and Noel Jones, for your efforts in organising the event and for making the afternoon such a great success.

Saturday night members played board games in the hall. It was good to go back in time playing games we have not played for years, followed by tea and coffee. Thanks to Linda and Shane for your time and effort organising the games night.

Sunday morning members enjoyed Tai chi with Lyn Hill. Thank you Lyn for your sessions over the weekend with Tai Chi, you have steadily gained numbers and interest at the rallies keep up the good work.

Sunday afternoon we had a combined happy hour at 4:00pm followed by a sing-a-long till late. We had the caravan club entertainers and singers playing music and we were very lucky to have Johnny from Imbil, a friend of Michael Burdette and Lesley Siffleet playing along and entertaining everyone. This was fun end enjoyable and the interest seems to be getting better at every rally. Thank you to our rally marshals Dennis Edney, Alf Hinson and Terry Park for another great job under the duress of heatwave temperatures.

See you all next time at Lowood for the President's Picnic rally.

Travel safe, stay healthy and happy, and I look forward to seeing everyone at the Lowood showground rally in February.

President

JOHN.

A little about Lowood Lowood township is located in the Somerset Region approximately 13 kilometres west of Fernvale, is approximately 66 kilometres west of Brisbane and has a population of about 3,500. Lowood was established as the first terminus of the Brisbane Valley Branch Railway in 1884 and a railhead for local sawmilling. As timber was cleared the land was turned over to dairying, and a butter factory was opened in 1903. The town grew from the subdivision around the new station. The name is derived from the 'low woods' of brigalow in the Lowood area, as opposed to the taller trees elsewhere in the Brisbane Valley. Lowood Post Office opened on 15 October 1888 although a receiving office had been open from 1884.

In 1941, a military airfield called Lowood, which was actually located at Mount Tarampa, was established and operated by the Royal Australian Air Force. No 71 Squadron operated from the airfield during 1943 conducting coastal patrol and naval convoy escort missions. The RAAF Station was also used for elementary flying training and also by USAAF fighter squadrons (1942) before becoming a RAAF operational base (OB) for dive bombers.

After the war the airfield was converted into a motor racing circuit, known as the 'Lowood Airfield Circuit', and operated for 20 years, the highlight was the hosting of the 1960 Australian Grand Prix. The airfield no longer exists but a small memorial marks its previous location. The area is now residential with the main runway redeveloped and named Daisy Road.

The railway line was closed in 1993. Lowood has a local shopping centre, swimming, bowls and golf venues, a sports and recreation centre, a showground, a local growers' packing house and the residence of the most notable and esteemed George and Yvonne Lacey.

Member Profile ~ Mary and Rodney Metcalfe

The Lives and Times of Rodney and Mary Metcalfe

Rodney and Mary joined the Queensland Caravan Club in 2013 after fifteen years of tent and camper trailer journeys with the Mitsubishi 4WD Owners' Club of Queensland Inc. In June 2010 Rod chaired the Australian 4WD 8th National Gathering at Pomona, and who should he have to liaise with, but none other than QCC Secretary, Gwen Egan. That Club conducted a rally there in the days beforehand. Now the Metcalfes, too, wear the familiar yellow shirts as a result of that contact.

Rod's place of birth was Newcastle, NSW. Mary, born in Dalby where her father was a stock and station agent, is the same age as the QCC. In 1963, Eric Caton constructed privately-owned saleyards in Toowoomba, so her secondary schooling was completed at that city's state high school. Rod and Mary's paths coincided in Toowoomba around 1969. Rod, an old boy of Rangeville State School and Toowoomba Grammar School was a solicitor in training. Mary worked as a shorthand conference reporter for the Queensland Graingrowers' Association. Weekends were enjoyed as members of the Young Anglican Fellowship. Their marriage in November 1970 was just one of twelve couples originating from this group.

Life took a different turn in May 1970 when Rod joined the RAAF Legal Service after being admitted to practise as a solicitor in February 1970. His marble had earlier been drawn out of the barrel for national service call-up. How many young people get asked to marry earlier than planned because their employer wants to post them overseas, but will not say where?

Penang and Butterworth became home for two years from 1971-73, followed by a year in Canberra, still engaged in RAAF duties. Mary worked in the Australian Honours and Awards Section at that time. When an opening became available within the City Solicitor's Office of Brisbane City Council in 1974, the couple were elated that Rod was offered the position. Twenty years of BCC service ensued, 10 years as a lawyer and 10 years in management roles, during which time their family of two boys and a girl arrived. Mary became the household manager and an unpaid community mother on many committee executives, the usual swimming and soccer clubs, scouts, guides and Duke of Edinburgh Award running daily a Mum's Taxi. Rod's role involved interesting projects as a council representative, e.g., opening of the Southbank Centre, Queen Street Mall, Olympic Games bids by Brisbane, (including two trips to East Berlin before the Wall was demolished), Warana Board, and World Master Games Board when held in Brisbane. In early years with BCC he made many a court appearance on behalf of the Council. From 1994, a stint followed in the Department of Tourism and Sport seeking commercial and sporting opportunities for Queensland in the years leading up to the Sydney Olympic Games.

His legal career in local government saw him appointed in 1995 as Deputy State Ombudsman, with responsibility for local government matters. While officially retiring in December 2006, Rod has seen service as a Member of both the Health Quality Complaints Commission and more recently the Local Government Misconduct Tribunal.

From May 1998 for recreation, the pair had joined the Mitsubishi Club and are still current members. Convoy tenting trips to Cape York, down the Birdsville Track, Flinders Ranges and other exciting bush venues followed. On one such trip in 2004, while engaged in a reconnoitre of a weekend trip they planned to run, Mary discovered a gravestone bearing her own name in the Leyburn Cemetery. Indeed, who was that woman? There began for her a passionate hobby in the hunt for the Caton family of which she knew little. The lady in question proved to be her great grandmother, and alongside her was the great grandfather descended from an Irish Famine Orphan who arrived in Australia in 1849. Never in her wildest dreams did Mary ever think that her research would be accepted on screen by the 'Who Do You Think You Are' team which prepared Michael Caton's story in 2013. Michael and Mary both share that Irish famine orphan as direct descendants. For eighteen months, she was sworn to secrecy about the program, particularly after the filming, and had a hard time keeping Rod quiet on the subject when he had imbibed a red or two!! Even our children were not told. Since then Mary has become a family history writer having articles published in several family history society journals when time permits, and when she and Rod are not off camping. The bush girl within holds a strong pull. Writing narrative poetry is another of her pastimes.

The Metcalfes enjoy being members of the QCC family and lending support to country towns during rallies. They take this opportunity to acknowledge the substantial ongoing behind-the-scenes work each month that results in pleasant gatherings for so many of us. 'Volunteers on wheels' surely leads to 'fellowship on wheels'.

Mulgowie Rally, 06-12 March. A heads-up on the Mulgowie's 'Display of Treasured Items' which will be organised and overseen by Graham Sheehan.

Members are encouraged to bring along and display items of interest which may basically be anything such as: family heirlooms, craft work, hobbies, lace work, embroidery, cross-stitching, jewellery, paintings and other art work, old earthenware, cameras, sculpture, family history and photos, clocks, period clothing and items of yesteryear.

Items for display will be received at the hall from 1:00pm Saturday. Graham will make a register of items as they arrive at the hall. Exhibitors will arrange their own display which will show exhibitor's name and a description of the items.

Once the items have been received, then for security reasons ,the hall will be closed and secured. Continued on page 11

Annual General Meeting - April Rally

Just a gentle reminder that the Annual General Meeting will be held at the April Beaudesert rally. Time to think about whether you can offer your time to the Club by serving on the committee. Remember that it's your club and it cannot operate without a dedicated committee. Please have a think about it as there are members currently on the committee who need and deserve a break.

The display will run on the Saturday only from 2:00pm to 4:00pm. No other activity will occur in the hall from 1:00pm to 4:00 pm on that day.

At the conclusion of the display period, exhibitors are to collect their items and Graham will cross-off collected items from his register. Exhibitors may stay with their exhibit-ed items.

There may be plenty of questions from members for Exhibitors to answer. Start thinking about what you want to display and support Graham's enthusiastic interest in this club event.
